Krizmanic Chosen as Valedictorian

Raymond A. Krizmanic, a history major from Joliet, Ill., has been chosen as the Valedictorian of the 1960 spring graduating class of St. Joseph's college. He will deliver the parting address to the graduates at commencement exercises Sunday, June 5, in the field-house.

Krizmanic will graduate Summa Cum Laude with a bachelor of arts degree in history. He has been awarded a scholarship to attend the University of Wisconsin, where he will work toward his masters degree.

During the past two years, Krizmanic has been chosen as a member of Delta Epsilon Sigma, national Catholic Honor Society, and was selected by his classmates to be listed in Who's Who Among Students in America's Colleges and Universities. He has also served as secretary of the senior class this year, along with the offices of president of the history club, interclub chairman on the Student Council and Phase business manager.

9 SJ Seniors Awarded Post-Grad Scholarships

Out of the 126 candidates for graduation on June 5, nine students have reported the receipt of fellowships, assistantships, or scholarships to further their academic endeavors. Included in the list of award winners are Joe Kanamueller, Ed Dolan, Gary Lynch, Jim Blanz, Bob Smat, Henry Pictor, Ray Krizmanic, Mel Casey and Dick Meister. Several others have applied for awards but have not yet received word concerning them.

Kanamueller received the first Fullbright scholarship to be awarded to a St. Joseph's student. The scholarship is sponsored by the U.S. Department of State and covers expenses of travel, education and living for study in a foreign country. Majoring in chemistry, Kanamueller has chosen to work toward his masters degree in that subject at the University of Heidelberg, in Germany.

Dolan, an economics major, has been awarded a National Defense Fellowship for study in economics and mathematics at the University of Kentucky. Like the Fullbright scholarship, this is also awarded through national competition.

Lynch, another economics major, has also been chosen as a recipient of a National Defense Fellowship. He will study economics at Washington State university, where he hopes to earn his masters degree and work toward his doctorate.

Blanz received assistantship offers from Wayne State university, the University of Wisconsin and Michigan State university. Majoring in mathematics at St. Joseph's, he has chosen to study at Wayne State. He also received honorable mention in the national competition sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Smat, a chemistry major, will continue his education at Iowa State University, where he has been awarded an assistantship in chemistry. He also received an offer from the University of Detroit. Pictor plans to study law at Northwestern university and has been awarded a scholarship to attend that institution. An English major at St. Joseph's, Pictor also received a scholarship offer from New York university for the study of law.

Krizmanic will work toward his masters degree in history at the University of Wisconsin. He has been awarded a scholarship to attend this University and to study in his major field.

Casey, a general business major, received scholarship and assistantship offers from Bradley university and the University of Illinois. He has chosen to attend Bradley, where he will work toward his masters degree in marketing.

Meister has accepted a scholarship offer from the University of Notre Dame, where he will further his studies in history, his major field on the undergraduate level.

Although not a member of the June graduating class, Joe Watson was awarded the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship earlier in the year. This is a scholarship to any university in the United States or Canada for the purpose of educating promising students for the teaching profession. Watson, who graduated in February from St. Joseph's, was an economics major.

Religion Courses Changes Add Some Practicalities, Problems

Recent changes in the requirements and courses of the Department of Religion at St. Joseph's have been the subject of much discussion at meetings of the administration and faculty for some time.

Rather than the usual nine hours of lower level courses and three of upper level hours which has been required by the college for many years, the student now must show 15 hours of religion, all five courses of which are stipulated by the college.

Included in the list of required courses are: The Sacred Liturgy; Christ in the Scriptures; God and Creation; Christian Morality; and Christology. The latter three are upper level courses.

Noticeable in this change is the attempt to separate the courses offered from those taken in Catholic high schools. The two lower level courses appear to be of a more practical nature than those offered before the change. With the Church's modern trend toward an understanding of the Liturgy, the first course should tie in very well. The second course should aid the student toward a good knowledge of Christ's actions here on earth. These courses, then, explore the principles of our religion without delving into philosophical explanations before the student has had any strong philosophy courses.

On the upper level, the student is required to take courses in which he can use his philosophical knowledge to give him an understanding of the reasons why the Church teaches what it does. The move of the course, Christian Morality, from the lower to the upper level undoubtedly suggests a thorough change in the structure of the course from common sense to intellectual knowledge.

These changes do have some drawbacks, though, which might tend to crowd some schedules to their utmost capacity. Whereas, before the change students were only required to list three upper level hours in this subject, they now must show nine hours, an increase of six upper level credit hours.

Also, if a student desires to take Christian Marriage, he must then take 12 upper level hours of religion, the equivalent of a minor requirement. These added hours could definitely crowd out some required hours in the student's major or minor field, and could also greatly discourage the scheduling of the marriage course.

Since many students come to college with little or no formal training in the teaching of the Church on marriage, one solution to this problem could be the scheduling of a series of talks by doctors, lawyers, priests and young married couples on the problems of "co-existence" with a spouse. These conferences, commonly known as the Family Life series, have been most successful at many all-male colleges across the nation in the past few years.

In general, the new courses required should give the student a better and higher level of understanding of his religion, but the hours required could result in a hardship on his schedule. Cooperation between the student and the faculty in the proper scheduling of classes could alleviate this hardship and an attempt to offer the student pre-marital aid outside of classes could reduce it even further and make for a well-educated student at graduation.

Thinking Men Prefer:

by Martie Rosinski

Although everyone is looking forward to the end of the school year and going home, a few will be leaving St. Joe for the last time. Now they are looking back at some of the great times they have had and the memories of St. Joe they will always hold. It is to them that this column is dedicated.

Upon the first invasion of Pumaville, we were confronted with preliminary exams, Father Schaefer and Mike Fontanetta, who was initiation chairman. We managed to get past the tests and soon learned to avoid our Dean of Clowps. We had our pig chase and the tug of war in which Mike eventually wound up in the pond, but the greatest part of that first semester was when "Farley's Raiders" initiated the sophomores.

St. Joe became nationally famous for football that year and some lucky people made the trip to the Aluminum Bowl in Little Rock. The spring semester was one of study when we were placed on the road to getting educated or job hunting.

Most of us returned the second year and some of us lasted. I doubt if anyone will ever forget the GREAT CHRISTMAS PARTY OF 1957 or Valpo's catching the flu just before our Homecoming. Perhaps the most outstanding memory of the spring semester was the water fight just before final exams. There were a few casualties in the jaunt to the pond, but not as many as when Father McCarthy handed out our final marks.

Upon returning for the third time, we found that the school had expanded with the building of Halas and Gallagher Halls, but also that the class was rapidly dwindling. This was the year when study ended and we had all night lights. We were juniors and Father Schaefer did not bother us—or so we thought until we went to Lafayette without signing out. A few classmates turned 21 and made their nightly trip to Kanne's, but the majority of us had to be content with the Ranch House. During the winter we had the first annual "Snow Bowl" game after which there was a steady trek to the infirmary. As the snow melted and the evenings grew longer, we turned our attention to building pyramids and frisbee.

For a few, three years at St. Joe had been very rewarding and we returned for the month of parties at Kanne's. We went to the Homecoming and met the alumni who once went through the same ordeal, but it was still difficult to realize that anyone could return here after graduating. After Christmas, things quieted down because many realized that they still had to finish this year. We limited ourselves to six beers a night and had parties only on special occasions such as Moe's birthday and trips to Watseka. We have passed comps and taken grad records; we still need a 2.00 and a week's relaxation before graduation. To those who are graduating, I offer my humble congratulations. To those who will be back, remember, it can be down.

St. Joe's Candidates Reply:

Immediately following the nomination of Adlai E. Stevenson and Edmund G. Brown for the offices of President and Vice-President at the St. Joseph's Mock Political Convention, telegrams were sent to them explaining the honor granted to them by the students. Acknowledgements of these telegrams were received recently by the senders and are reprinted below.

Dear Mr. Krizmanic:

I have just seen your wire and hope you will know how profoundly grateful I am to know that I still have the good will and confidence of so many friends at St. Joseph's college. And my nomination by your Mock Political Convention is an honor that I shall not soon forget—but I am still not convinced.

Sincerely,

Adlai E. Stevenson

Dear Mr. Lillich:

I want to thank you for your telegram and your thoughtfulness in sending me the results of your Mock Political Convention.

I am not a candidate for national office, but I hope my work as Governor will continue to merit your support.

Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,

Edmund G. Brown

Council Critique

by Tom Cusick

Although the 1959-60 Council stepped down from office last Tuesday night, their work has not ceased. Within the past week some 30 record albums have arrived in the library. These albums will be put in the Student Council record rack where the students may use them for the nominal fee of ten cents a day. The money collected in rentals will be devoted to the purchase of additional albums in the future. This system was inaugurated by the Student Council of a year ago under president Marty Bena. This project is one that has been neglected throughout the year, but it is good to see action being taken even at this late date.

This year's Council has also purchased a new television set for the Rec hall to replace the eye-straining model now in use. The old set will be placed in one of the residence halls.

The ping pong tables are being replaced with new more substantial models. It seems a shame when we must replace these tables every two years, not because of the wear they incur from use, but from the abusive and thoughtless treatment they are subjected to by the students. Let's hope that by getting sturdier tables and by gentler treatment from the students, the new tables will last more than two years.

The other addition to the Rec hall facilities are 25 new card tables. These are designed to be used at dances, mixers and other more or less refined gatherings in the Rec hall such as on Parents' Weekend. The large tables now in use have been subjected to the same abuse that has been cited regarding the ping pong tables.

These additions have cost a goodly sum of the Council's money and the money appears to have been well spent. The student body must keep in mind that this is THEIR MONEY being spent and these new facilities should be treated in just that way.

At the Oct. 6th meeting of the Student Council during the first semester of this year, a committee was appointed to revise and bring up-to-date the Student Union

Constitution. No mention was made at the meetings of the progress being made by this committee. According to Council members comments during the year, the job was a painstaking and time consuming one, as well can be imagined. As was previously made known in this column latest plans called for the new Constitution to be turned over to the incoming Council so that they could make any changes before submitting it to the approval of the Student Union next fall.

Last week it was learned from the new Council President that the Constitution was, in fact, completed in the early months of this year. There are now some 50 copies of the revised document in existence. I fail to understand why, if the Constitution has been finished for this long, there should be the delay ratifying it and putting it into operation. If it were only a matter of a month or six weeks, then it would be quite reasonable to allow the new Council to pass on it before distributing it to the Student Union for ratification. Four months, though, seems unnecessary and wasteful.

It was pleasant to see the members of the Council become involved in a real discussion at the last meeting. The proposal to stage the Tower Dance and the Homecoming Dance on the same weekend touched off the short, but serious, discussion. While the idea was pretty thoroughly squelched, it did make an attempt to solve what has become somewhat of a problem on the campus. One of the main functions of the Student Council is to serve as a sounding board for this sort of idea and possible solution, and when it does make this sort of discussion a part of its program, it should be given everyone's whole-hearted support.

It can at least be hoped that this sort of discussion will encourage not only the other Council members, but the members of the student body as well, to come forward with their ideas. There are too many good suggestions being made in bull sessions in the Rec hall and residence halls for solving some of the current problems of the Council and the college which should be given a public airing at these meetings, but never are.

Reviews At Random

by Glenn Clausen

God made us to His image and likeness. The motivational researchers are trying to make us to the image and likeness of the Ideal Consumer. Marketing psychologists maintain that since we, the average consumers, don't really know what we want, we have to be directed by hidden persuaders.

Vance Packard, author of The Hidden Persuaders, tells an objective tale of how today's advertising agencies are using hidden urges and frustrations to differentiate like products in the consumer's hypnotized eyes.

Have you ever longed for a big red convertible? Do you know why? Well, according to the M.R. experts, you longed for the convertible because you connected it with the desire for a mistress in your subconscious.

It might interest you to know that the motivation analysts have also decided that the American male is no longer persuaded to buy a product because of cheesecake ads. What you want today is sophisticated sex.

You, the male consumer, are now more interested in clothes styles because the ad agencies' psychologists decided that you couldn't afford not to dress right.

Packard's book can easily be read in one night. It is a worthwhile book for anyone interested in discovering the true reasons behind his purchases.

Open Letter

Dear Readers:

In the last issue of Stuff we found it necessary to use editorial space to remind all interested persons of the policies of this paper in regard to letters to the editor. We used one letter we had received as an example.

In the past week, the "supposed" writer of this particular letter dropped us a note stating, "I am the one you are looking for in so far as the letter is concerned. Please withhold my name. The name is _____" (Name withheld by editors.)

It takes only a few moments of checking to discover that the person named in this note is no longer a student at St. Joe. He is listed as withdrawing after the first semester, and this fact has been established by the Registrar and the Postmaster. Obviously, the true writer was not ready to sign his real name and merely picked any name out of the roster.

Nice try.

SJ Dixiecrat Cites Error

Dear Editors:

I have just read Stuff, Vol. 23, No. 13, dated May 13, 1960. I would like to make a comment on the article headed, "St. Joe Nominates Stevenson in Mock Dem. Convention," by Glenn Clausen.

Mr. Clausen shows that he was either not at the convention or he slept through it. The Southern bloc was not split on the first ballot. The states that voted for Mr. Symington were mid-Western and Northern states which later joined the South in support of Lyndon B. Johnson. Another part of his article that seemed to show that he was not there was that the South did not stomp out. We left quietly, but we did stomp back in.

In closing, I have a suggestion for Mr. Clausen. The next time he wants to write an article about an event on campus, he should be at the event.

Respectfully,

Michael E. O'Connor

(Ed. Note: Touche! Mr. Clausen was definitely present for the entire convention and was, we hope, wide awake. Sorry about any mistakes. That issue came out on Friday, the 13th.)

Men of the Month for May are Frank Bergman and Jim Delaney.

F. Bergman, J. Delaney May "Men of Month"

In recognition for their time and effort put in on the spring dances of the 1959-60 school year, two St. Joseph's students have been chosen as Men of the Month for May. Awarded the honor this month are Frank Bergman, a junior, and Jim Delaney, a freshman.

Bergman was responsible for building the Eiffel Tower which graced the front of the Rec. hall for both the Prom and the Frosh-Soph Hop. Made out of lumber and standing approximately 30 feet high, the tower was built according to plans drawn by Bergman, who claims woodworking as his hobby. He also was responsible for much of the work put into the actual construction according to the plans.

Bergman, who claims Chicago as his home, is a graduate of St. Benedict's high school, where he was president of his senior class and earned letters in baseball and basketball. He is an English major at St. Joseph's and plans to attend art school at Northwestern University after he graduates, where he will study interior decorating. Bergman is also an active member of the Chicago club.

Delaney was responsible for a large amount of the art work which turned the Rec. hall into an Oriental garden for the Frosh-Soph Hop. His representation of the dragon received praises from many of the students attending the dance. He has also contributed to the decorations for the Mardi Gras dance and to the decorating of Seifert hall for Homecoming. His art can be found in many places around the campus, including the Fort Wayne club shield and many campaign posters.

Delaney is a resident of Fort Wayne, Ind., where he graduated from Central Catholic high school. In his senior year in high school, he placed first in a Regional Science Fair and competed in the National Fair at Hartford, Conn. He also received varsity letters in wrestling, track and football. At St. Joe he is a member of the Fort Wayne club, the Barbell club and the Engineering club. He is being awarded a freshmen numeral in wrestling.

Faculty Changes, Adds SJ Courses

Throughout the school year, members of the St. Joseph's faculty have been seriously considering and studying the courses offered by the college. Larry Kelly Wins Senior Presidency

In the recent senior class elections, Larry Kelly defeated Dave Beran to win the presidency, Mike Mettler was unopposed for vice-president, Dick Shaw beat Bill Zleit and Gerry Hagerman to become secretary, and Leo Klemme beat Bob Kasky for the treasurer's post.

Joe Kanamueller

Kanamueller Wins 1st SJ Fullbright

Joe Kanamueller, a senior chemistry major at St. Joseph's, has been chosen as the recipient of a Fullbright Scholarship, the first one ever awarded to a student of the college.

Through the Fullbright grant, Kanamueller will attend the University of Heidelberg, where he will work toward his masters degree in chemistry. The scholarship will pay his expenses for ten months of schooling, including tuition, books, travel both in this country and in Germany, and a maintenance allowance.

Kanamueller, a resident of Chicago, is a member of the Chess and Checkers club, Delta Epsilon Sigma, Who's Who, and is treasurer of Digamma Kappa Lambda. He was also junior delegate of the NFCCS this year. Along with the Fullbright scholarship, he has received assistantship offers from the University of Minnesota, Purdue and Northwestern. When he returns from Germany, he plans to attend the University of Minnesota and later teach college chemistry.

Applicants for the Fullbright scholarship must apply before November 1 to the campus advisor, who sends their file in to a state committee. Included in the application material are a life history, an explanation of the course of study desired, a transcript of credits, a certificate of health and a certificate of proficiency in a foreign language.

After a review by the state committee, the application, if approved, is sent to the International Institute of Education, where it is again reviewed and sent to the

by Jerry Mauch

Whether it's a lifetime career as a doctor, lawyer, teacher or businessman, the college graduate has a very important choice to make when he starts out on his path to future life. Many of the June graduates from St. Joseph's have already made this decision and have some definite plans about what they will be doing for the next few years, anyway.

Graduates and professional schools seem to be quite popular among many of the future alumni. Although plans vary from night school to full time study, at least an approximate number of those who plan to further their studies can be determined. These figures are not complete, though, because decisions are being made from day to day.

In general, 32 grads are planning to attend school next year. To this figure should also be added the nine members of the class who are completing the engineering programs at different institutions.

In the list of 32 prospective grad school students are those who plan to attend law school, dental school or medical school. Those attending graduate schools other than professional schools are: Jack Belluci, Jim Blanz, Dan Casey, Mel Casey, Ed Dolan, Charles Faucher, Gus Fischer, Vern Gladu, Jim Gross, Al Janc, Joe Kanamueller, Ray Krizmanic, Joe Lillich, Connor Loesch, Gary Lynch, Matt Lynch, Joe McMullen, Dave Mann, Erwin Mantei, Dick Heister, Jim Moulthrop, Don Sidor, Bob Smat, and Ed Starshak.

Those seniors planning to attend law school are: Tony Calderone, Tom Lewis, Ed Massura, Roger Mueller, Bob Gallaher, Joe O'Toole, Hank Pictor, and Martie Rosinski. Most of those planning to attend dental and medical schools in the future will spend at least one year at graduate school.

Those graduates who are now attending other schools on the engineering program are: Don Buckley, Dick Courtney, Frank Fitzgerald, Ron Knoerzer, Bill McCrea, Jim Murphy, Bob Oehmke, Ed Roth, and Tom Sorg.

Approximately 30 seniors have already signed contracts or have been promised positions in the commercial, industrial or educational fields. Entering into teaching are: Ron Biedakiewicz, Bob Cathcart, Nancy Dye, Ralph Halderson, Stan Nawrocki, and Peter Sladeski. Business trainee programs claim five seniors: Don Disbrow, Tom Geffert, Jerry McInerney, Tom Pajakowski, and Tim Sullivan. Four grads will work in the field of public accounting. They are Don Donahue, Jack Keilman, Jerry Mauch, and Hank Murphy. Private accounting will draw Dave Kafka, Ron Koron and Tom O'Connor. Working for the Internal Revenue Service will be Ed Lippie, Jerry Semancik, Ralph Tomlin, and Bob Williams.

Several other fields have already been chosen by seniors. Dick Nietzel and Mark Kline will enter sales, Leon Brady will go into ranching, Pat Bray will work in professional golf, Bob Grotomat will enter the marketing field, Frank Rastigue will work for the Food and Drug Administration, Nuel Edmunds will work in soil conservation, and Fred Faulstich will enter the printing field.

Although only 9 seniors have definite plans to enter the service at present, several more will probably enlist or volunteer in the next

It is difficult, in the position we find ourselves at this time, to say in mere words what is sincerely felt, both intellectually and emotionally. Back about the time Stuff came out in the Fall of 1957 for the first time that semester, we were invited to write the column which has appeared under this head ever since. It has been a task which has been memorable for many reasons.

In the first place, the plaudits of the student body of St. Joseph's have been greatly appreciated, as have the imprecations of the various faculty members who took issue with the subject matter of this column.

Secondly, the glee and absolute joy with which you told us of the mistakes and various idiosyncracies of your comrades was quite memorable.

Thirdly, the mistakes which we made were legion, but also quite memorable, chiefly because they were so glaring and so rapidly reported, both to us and to the editors of Stuff.

Fourthly, well, there is no fourthly—there doesn't need to be. Please allow us to use this paragraph to thank very sincerely and deeply those of you who have followed and supported us for the last three years, the last two years, or last but not least, the last year.

Before leaving the Stuff office, for perhaps the last time, we would like to take the opportunity to explain one small detail.

When this column was first conceived, it was decided that every week the last sentence in the column would be a new attempt to insert a fresh bit of humor into your lives by use of a "saying" or some funny statement. By some unfortunate choice, the statement which has appeared at the tail end of this column for the last three years was chosen. The immediate reaction to it was loud and boisterous, and very unanimous—in declaring it terrible, trite, stupid, and unworthy of a publication of the calibre of Stuff. Well, after this large hue and cry, there was only one answer—keep on using it! That is the reason why the following trite, terrible, stupid saying has appeared at the end of this column for so long.

One last bit of advice . . .

He will replace Greg Mahoney and "Jud" Mauch at the helm of the campus newspaper.

The assistant editor of Stuff next year will be John C. Babione, a freshman from Fremont, Ohio. Babione is an English-journalism major and an honor student. He was a reporter for Stuff this year and will fill the position vacated by Malley.

Daniel S. Zawila will be the layout-editor for the paper next year. Zawila is also an English-journalism major from Chicago, Ill., and a Dean's List student. He was a Stuff reporter this year.

The new editors were introduced at the first annual banquet of the staff on May 17. At that time Mr. Hugh P. Cowdin, the paper's faculty advisor, announced that Stuff will be printed in Rensselaer by the Campbell Printing Co. next year. Since 1953 Stuff has been printed by the Richard B. Cross Printing Co., Oxford, Ind.

The speaker at the banquet was Mr. Herbert P. Kenney, Jr. Mr. Kenney graduated from St. Joseph's in 1933 and today is assistant city editor of the Indianapolis News. He related several of his more interesting experiences in journalism and then answered questions from the audience.

Mahoney and Mauch have been co-editors of the paper since February, 1959. Under their leadership, Stuff has been given a first class honor rating from the Associated Collegiate Press, and this year was awarded honorable mention by the Indiana Collegiate Press Association for best feature content.

Tracksters Do Well In ICC Greencastle Meet

Four of the five tracksters St. Joe sent to the ICC track meet in Greencastle, Ind., on Saturday, May 14, placed in their event. The Pumas thus finished sixth in the team standings, but the other schools entered many more men in the various events.

Joe Andreotta earned a fifth place in the 100 yard dash with a 10.3 clocking. The other three places were won in field events.

Tom Seroczynski was fourth in the javelin with a throw of 151' 3 3/4". Rog Mueller put the 16 pound shot 42' 10 3/4" for a fifth place. Jim McMahon finished fifth in the discus throw with an effort of 119' 9 3/4".

In the last regular season meet, the Puma runners were defeated at Valparaiso, 76 3/4 to 57 1/4. However, the inexperienced St. Joe men put up a good fight for their first year of competition; they copped three first places in this meet.

In the shot put, Mueller took first place with a 42' 10 3/4" effort. He was followed by two more Pumas, Vic Roos and George Beemsterboer, in second and third place.

Beemsterboer also won the javelin throw with a 146' 4 1/2" heave. Seroczynski placed second behind him.

St. Joe's third first place of the meet came in the discus throw which Jim McMahon won on a 116' 8" throw. The Pumas also swept this event with Mike Swank and Beemsterboer finishing second and third.

By placing at least one man in every event, St. Joe piled up enough points to give Valpo a good battle. In the mile run, Mike Mettler finished second and Mickey Clark third. Tom Schoenbaum was third in the 440 yard dash, and Andreotta was second in the 100 yard dash.

In the 120 yard hurdles, Larry Wilmore took second and Bill Wilburn third. Tom Kroeger placed third in the 220 yard hurdles.

Mettler was second in the 880 yard run; Phil Keller was second in the broad jump; Bobby Williams was third in the high jump; Clark was second in the two mile run; Andreotta was second in the 220 yard dash and Keller was third; and Swank was second in the pole vault.

St. Joe finished second in both the 880 yard relay and the mile relay.

Prospects for next year are looking much brighter. The freshman runners defeated the Valpo frosh on Wednesday, May 11, on the Crusader track by the score of 76-51.

First place winners for the Pumas were: Ed O'Hara in the 220 yard dash (23.5); Chuck Stapleman in the 440 yard dash (56.99); Mike Kaminski in the low hurdles (29.50); Jim Smith in the Pole vault (10'); Dick Cochran in the high jump (5'); Bill Krauklis in the discus (114' 3 3/4"); and O'Hara in the javelin (127' 9 3/4").

St. Joe also won the 880 yard relay with Jim Tuerff, Stapleman, Jim Francis, and O'Hara covering the distance in 1:41.1 as well as the mile relay with Art Berger, Kaminski, Al Diener and Bill Keenan winning that event in 3:56.8.

SJ Track Records

St. Joe has sponsored a track team 13 times since 1938. The present squad is the first one since 1955.

In an effort to straighten out the record books, track coach Ed Dwyer has been digging through the old files and has come up with the following St. Joe marks. However, if someone can prove there is a better record for one of the events, he is free to contact the school and inform them of it.

The list is as complete as possible, but there is a possibility of error and corrections will be appreciated.

New Stands To Hold 672 In Fieldhouse

The seating capacity of St. Joe's fieldhouse will be increased by 672 for next year's basketball campaign at a cost of $7,890. Presently, the fieldhouse will accommodate approximately 1200 spectators.

Roll-a-way bleachers will be installed at the west end of the varsity basketball court between the varsity court and the intramural courts. The present permanent bleachers on either side of the court will not be affected.

When not in use, the new seating section may be folded up to afford added space, but it cannot be removed entirely.

"As it is now, the student body itself fills the fieldhouse," said Fr. Richard Baird, director of athletics. The increased capacity will provide room for spectators from visiting schools as well as for persons from the surrounding towns.

Golf, Tennis Post Mortem

The Puma golfers grabbed off third place in the NAIA District 21 standings with a team scoring total of 640. Ten teams are listed in these standings.

In the Indiana Collegiate Conference, St. Joseph's tied with Butler for third place. In the I.I.A.A. (Little State) standings, St. Joe finished up in a very good fourth place tie with Butler out of a field of 19.

Low men on the Puma golf team was Dick Etter and Dick Hershberger, both averaging 159 for 36 holes.

In tennis St. Joe ended up last in the ICC tennis tournament held at Ball State on May 13-14. DePauw took the tourney with 62 points.

Among the many topics of discussion that could be heard between the tinkling of martini glasses at the Stuff banquet in Kanne's last week was that of the intramural program this year. It was the consensus of a number of interested staff members that the program this year has been very successful. Thanks to the very fine administration of Intramural Director Mr. Robert Shemky and his staff, especially Bob Decker, Bill Holland, and Ray Regner, the program has been run efficiently with the wishes of the students always in mind.

Laurels should also go to the referees and umpires this year; their jobs required a lot of time, energy, and a Colgate invisible shield to repel the sometimes very explicit reactions to their decisions. The best umpire this season? . . . Some say Joe Lillich, some say Tom Thoma. Both make their calls loud and clear, both keep the games and players well under their control, and both do better than average in making fair decisions. For these reasons both have been chosen to handle the final championship games if they are not players themselves.

Going into the 12" championship game were the only two undefeated teams in that league, Gary Stack's Bennett Overtakers and John Lyons' Noll Semour Nebbishes. These teams are evenly matched, but the biggest bat is swung by the Overtaker catcher Tom Geffert. The Nebbishes offer a line-up of good hitters, including John Kolesar.

In the 16" tournament Joe Tryzna's Bennett Zaks, who have lost only one game in the last two years prior to Monday's games, were favored to get past Don Moll and Jim McArdle's Gallagher Chi-Guys and go on to beat the Halas Hydes for the title. The Hydes moved into the final game by edging Vita Mitalo's powerful Horsemen 11 to 10 in eight innings on a long triple by leftfielder Frank Bellucci and a game-winning single to right by pitcher Tom Keane.

When the final standings for the regular season were drawn up, consideration was not made for the games that could not be played because of comps, grad records, and a number of other necessary conflicts. Consequently, such teams as the Seymour Nebbishes and the Bennett Zaks, both of whom were undefeated during the regular season, were accorded undue losses.

Speaking of Lillich . . . Lillich was umpiring a 12" game last week behind the plate with king-sized catcher Jerry Burrows crouched in front of him. There was a freshman runner at third with one out. On a flyball to center field the freshman tagged up and came running down the line to score. The throw in from centerfield was late and was cut off by the pitcher, but the freshman and Burrows collided anyway, sending the freshman sprawling in the dust while Lillich stood there yelling, "There's nothing there, there's nothing there!" The freshman slowly got to his feet, rubbing his bruised arm and thigh, and glared at Lillich. He then took Lillich by the arm and led him back to third base, looked back down at Burrows who was standing in front of the plate, then turned back to Lillich and said, "All right, now it's your turn to run home, and I'll yell, "There's nothing there, there's nothing there!"

Club News

The Ohio club held its annual banquet at Kanne's restaurant on May 11. At this time the election of officers was held. Those directing the club next year will be Bill Ring, president; Art Mueller, vice-president; Tom Moloney, secretary; and Jim Batistick, treasurer. Fr. Raymond M. Cera, C.P.P.S., will serve as club moderator for the second year.

The Fort Wayne club is in the process of contacting all juniors at Central Catholic high school in Fort Wayne in hopes that some might be influenced into coming to St. Joseph's.

The club shield, drawn by freshman Jim Delaney, is now ready to be displayed in the Rec hall with those of the other clubs.

Approximately 20 members attended the annual banquet at Kanne's restaurant on May 9. Both Fr. Schaefer and Fr. Banet also attended. At this banquet, the new officers were installed and plans were discussed for the summer dance, to be held in Fort Wayne.

Officers of the club for the 1960-61 school year are John Mascotte, president; Jim Wolf, vice-president; Tony Carcione, secretary; and Dick Rosswurm, treasurer.

The Monogram club elected Les Klein as "J-Man of the Year" at its last meeting. The award is made on the basis of "excellence in character, leadership, athletics and scholarship."

Club officers for 1960-61 were also elected at the meeting. Jim Madden was chosen president, George Connelly vice-president, Bob Decker, secretary, and Tom Seroczynski treasurer.

These are the silver wings of a U. S. Air Force Navigator. As a flying officer on the Aerospace team, he has chosen a career of leadership, a career that has meaning, rewards and executive opportunity.

The Aviation Cadet Program is the gateway to this career. To qualify for this rigorous and professional training, a high school diploma is required; however, two or more years of college are highly desirable. Upon completion of the program the Air Force encourages the new officer to earn his degree so he can better handle the responsibilities of his position. This includes full pay and allowances while taking off-duty courses under the Bootstrap education program. The Air Force will pay a substantial part of all tuition costs. After having attained enough credits so that he can complete course work and residence requirements for a college degree in 6 months or less, he is eligible to apply for temporary duty at the school of his choice.

If you think you have what it takes to earn the silver wings of an Air Force Navigator, see your local Air Force Recruiter. Ask him about Aviation Cadet Navigator training and the benefits which are available to a flying officer in the Air Force. Or fill-in and mail this coupon.

There's a place for tomorrow's leaders on the Aerospace Team.

Mr. Leach, who received a B.S. degree in mining engineering from Columbia university in 1911, donated three 20-acre claims near Silver City, N.M. to St. Joseph's college in 1957. Until 1921 Mr. Leach was chief geologist for the Phelps-Dodge Corp. at that company's Tyrone, N.M. copper mine. In 1921 Mr. Leach and his late wife began mining on their own and acquired considerable mining property, primarily gold, silver, bismuth, manganiferous iron and uranium mines.

Mr. and Mrs. Leach were the first to discover and work, in 1920, the uranium deposits of the Merry Widow mine in the White Signal mining district of New Mexico. This was the first reported occurrence of uranium in that state. The land donated to St. Joseph's is the site of the college's field station for geology students, who take a six-hour field course there during the summer.

Mr. Oppenheim was connected with New Idea, Inc. of Coldwater, O. from 1923 until he retired in 1949. Starting as a sales clerk, he rose to assistant sales manager, general sales manager and finally vice-president and general manager of the New Idea Farm Equipment Division of AVCO Manufacturing Corp. He is also a past director of New Idea, Inc. and the AVCO Corp.

A native of Maria Stein, Ohio, Mr. Oppenheim attended St. Joseph's academy in Rensselaer and received the B.A. degree from Catholic University of America in 1923. In addition to his other duties, he was also, until 1949, vice-president of Henry J. Connor, Inc. of Washington, D.C., and he is a past president of Farm Equipment Institute, Chicago. Mr. Oppenheim now lives in Centerville, Ohio.
